MILNE MEMO THOUGHTS

The Milne Company's commitment to quality work has been part of its philosophy since it was founded in 1953. A Milne Mausoleum is built for eternity and incorporates structural elements which are the best they can be; even though they may not be visible in the completed structure. This commitment will never change.

Other aspects of the company however, can and do change. In 1998 a change occurred when I became the owner of all Milne entities. Since that time, I have had the honor and pleasure of leading this company in growth and continued success, always staying true to the founding philosophy of operating an international company of integrity, a company which gives excellent customer service, and a company which produces a top quality product. I am proud to say the corporate slogan "the largest designer and builder of quality mausoleums in the world" still rings true for the Milne Company.

In September 2009, another change occurred in the Milne Company when our Vice President, David O. Dahl, assumed ownership and control of all Milne entities. David was hired in 1989 upon graduating from Washington State University with degrees in Construction Management and Business Administration. He worked as a field engineer, project manager, and has been our Vice President since 2000.

I have enjoyed the opportunity of owning and operating a company that is a leader in its industry. I owe this success to our Clients, the Milne employees and their families, our Australian joint venture partners, the Milne Board of Directors, and all the vendors and subcontractors who have supplied goods and services to provide top quality products.

The Milne Company is a success due to the support and teamwork each and every one of you has provided. A heartfelt THANK YOU to all of you! A special thank you goes out to my wife Lucy and my daughters Leah and Lisa, who always stood by me and encouraged me to pursue my dream.

Although I have stepped down as owner and President of the Milne Company, I will remain involved in daily operations as a consultant, and I have every confidence that David will continue the Milne Company's tradition of excellence. I am looking forward to the prospect of my continued involvement with Milne along with more time to spend with my wife, family, and grandchildren.

Again, to everyone that made my 31 years at the Milne Company possible – THANK YOU!

Spou Bertolin

UNITED WAY

The Milne Company continues its longstanding tradition of encouraging employees to contribute to United Way in the communities where we work by matching all employee contributions dollar-for-dollar. This program, has, over the years, provided a vehicle by which employees can help those in their communities less fortunate than themselves and also provided a means by which employees can develop the habit of charitable giving. For those employees who give the "Suggested Gift" amount, based on their earnings, the Company also matches up to $500 of contributions to any tax-exempt charity of the employee's choice.

RETIREMENT PLAN

The Company is a member of the "Northwest Associated General Contractors Chapters 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan." This plan offers a defined contribution plan, which receives the Company's contribution, and a 401(k) plan for employee contribution via payroll deduction.
